Short Description

A simple but effective accessory to add to your NOHRD wall bars. The artificial leather Incline Bench is designed for use with the NOHRD wall bars to give you extra exercise possibilities. Simply attach it to the bars and you can perform traditional bench exercises at a range of different inclines. It can also be used for sit-ups and other ab exercises.

Why Add An Incline Bench?

The bench will look stylish in any home or commercial environment and comes with artificial leather upholstery as standard (There is also the option of real leather for an additional cost).

All of the products in the NOHRD range are manufactured in Germany and their attractive design makes them stand out in any gym or fitness facility. This bench is suitable for use with both the 10 and 14 wall bar options in the NOHRD range.

Add Variety To Your Wall Bars

In order to really maximise your wall bars, this incline bench attachment will help you perform a wider range of bodyweight exercises. Manufactured in Germany, the wall bars can be used on their own to climb on, or with this bench to perform sit ups, chest presses, fly's, rows and much more. Each bench is hand made and comes with faux or real leather upholstery.

Adding the bench or the optional multi-adapter opens up a whole new range of exercises including, chest and back exercises with free weights, dips, pull ups and abdominal crunches....the possibilities are endless!
