Description

Choosing the Platinum Club Series Upright Bike

If you want to buy a bike that's been developed and designed for its user, then the Platinum Club Series Upright bike from Life Fitness should be where you look first. Advanced design, technology and of course high quality manufacturing from one of the world's leading gym equipment brands.

Why Choose This Upright Bike?

Providing you with a cardio workout at home or in a gym, the exercise bike is low impact and can be as high intensity as you want it to be. Ensuring your workout is comfortable and you have everything to hand you need is what Life Fitness is all about. The Platinum Club Series Upright Bike brings everything together in one place.

From heart rate monitoring through the handlebar sensors, to the Wide Ride™ self levelling pedals and the easy to adjust seat, this is a superbly designed bike that provides an almost perfect ergonomic position.

Now add in a 16" touchscreen high definition console that gives you access to a range of pre-programmed workouts, access to a wide range of entertainment options and of course compatibility with Apple/Android phones and tablets.
