Short Description

In essence, this awesome Monster rack system from Primal Strength covers three different machines in one - a half rack, smith machine and functional trainer. Now called the Primal Pro Series Power Rack / Smith Machine / Functional Trainer Ultra System (It's full title!), it is a highly sought after gym machine for homes, schools, offices and PT studios alike. With so many different options for exercises, it's a great investment for your gym.

Power Rack, Dual Pulley & Functional Trainer

Suitable for light commercial use, you get a lifetime frame warranty and two-year cable and pulley warranty. The half rack has a max weight capacity of 400kg which should be enough for almost any gym or workout environment. With dual pulleys, 2 x 100kg weight stacks, smith system and premium J-Hooks for your rack, you can perform a huge range of exercises using this one machine.

Using This Monster Rack

Whether you like squats, bar work, cable work or a combination of various different ways to exercise your body's different muscle groups, the Primal Strength Stealth Monster Rack System provides a highly cost effective option that is of commercial grade build and design.

Exercises you can perform on the Monster rack system include just about every muscle group in the body. Ranging from squats and standing exercises to using a bench with the Smith system, you can focus on individual muscles knowing the cables, bar and rack are of the highest quality.

Designed and manufactured by Primal Strength you get a lifetime warranty on the frame for light commercial use making it ideal for a home gym, school, office, hotel or PT studio.
