Short Description

Combining a 15m rope with 12kg of weight means the Commercial Stealth Battle Rope has more options for exercises for more users. Enabling everyone from a beginner through to an advanced user is just one part of this cost-effective functional accessory. It also comes with a full 1 year commercial warranty.

Why Choose A Commercial Battle Rope?

As well as being good for power work, strength, aerobic and anaerobic exercises, it can also be used to help with balance and co-ordination. Using a battle rope engages multiple muscle groups and raises your heart rate throughout the workout. Helping to increase grip strength and back muscles, the engagement of a number of muscles is what a lot of users really like.
