Short Description

With its medium to firm 'whip' this 7ft Olympic bar from Primal Strength is a superb entry level bar or multiple purchase bar for commercial CrossFit studios or gyms. High quality for a lot less than usual Olympic bar prices, the only slight negative is that it is tested only up to 400kg - which for strength gyms may not be enough.

Why Choose This 7ft Olympic Bar?

With its 29mm grip and cleverly placed knurl grip positions that ensure you can hold the bar however sweaty your palms, you also get quite a low spin from the sleeves. It comes with Allen Key bolt fixings and whilst an entry bar, performs well in any environment. With a 1 year light commercial warranty, you also get the needle bearings as standard.

Limits to the Warranty

The light commercial warranty is quite prescriptive. You only have this warranty against bending if the bar hasn't been damaged. This damage could be due to using incorrectly, storing badly or even reckless use by users such as dropping the bar on a bench, on to spotter arms or on to j-hooks that are not rubber protected.
