Short Description

Designed to fit in with other wood equipment in a studio, or for a stylish addition to your studio or home gym, the latest Wood Effect C2 Pro RC reformer from Align Pilates is a big win. Using their own processing technique in manufacture, you get the beauty and style of a wood effect finish, with the strength of the aluminium frame.

The C2 Pro RC Wood Effect Reformer

Whether you are replacing your reformer or buying a new one, the C2 Pro RC reformer gives you the large carriage travel (106.5cm), the smoothness of the aluminium rails and the high quality nickel springs that come in three different strengths. Finally, store in it's vertical position for ease.

Description

The Wood Effect C2-Pro RC Reformer

As the fifth generation C2-Pro, Align have also created the Wood Effect RC by popular demand for studios and homes. The stylish finish looks like wood, but is in fact a scratch resistant wood effect that sits on the aluminium frame. With some upgraded components, new add ons and the 'rapid change' bar, ensures this is a great buy for home gyms or studios alike.

Include the fact that whilst this maybe a new C2-Pro, the RC i still compatible with the early C-Series accessories like the standing platform; leg extensions; half and full Cadillac frames and mattress.
