Short Description

Allowing you to target your chest muscles, the Spirit 35 Pin Select Seated Chest Press ensures you get a full range of motion and can choose unilateral or bilateral movements when exercising. With horizontal grips that provide a natural converging path of motion during your chest press, this is a comfortable and easy-to-use selectorised machine from Spirit Fitness.

The Seated Chest Press is also really well designed including the ergonomic seat and backpad design. Using the gas-assisted seat adjustment, the easy to use and easily identifiable weight stack and the smooth chest press action using the grips, this commercial machine offers incredible value for money and is perfect in commercial or home gym environments.

Why This Machine?

Working your chest muscles is a popular exercise in any gym. Ensuring that any piece of equipment is as accessible as possible for your audience is not always easy. The Spirit 35 Pin Select range offers a premium selectorised range for an affordable price.

Perfect for all but the busiest gyms, this seated chest press will be used a lot. Therefore, the premium upholstery, the simple but effective press action, the 90kg weight stack and gas assisted seat height, ergonomic back pad and comfortable grips, all help to create an invaluable piece for your gym floor.
