Short Description

With so many exercises possible with resistance training, the new Supaflex resistance tube range offers you the chance to workout at home and target specific muscles using the resistance tubes. Supaflex developed a new foam grip handle to help you grip, even when you get a bit sweaty. From shoulders to arms, legs and even our lower back, resistance tubes can help you get a great workout.

Supaflex also developed a simple colour-coding system to ensure you can easily see what resistance you need for your exercise. This is invaluable when you have two or three tubes to cover even the largest muscle groups. Great value for money and available now from GymEquipment.co.uk.
